December 14th, 1929.

Dear Dave:

Some mutual friend informed me that you were returning to the theatre. I'm glad—so glad, for the stage needs you, as an actor and a director, as there's none more competent than you to serve the needs of the struggling incompetents who infest our Palace of the God of Thespis.

I am even willing to go so far as to join you in a SCHOOL for the instruction of the many needs worthy of our vocation. I await whatever success you achieve on your return with great pleasure.

As always,

RICHARD BENNETT.

"MEN ARE LIKE THAT," pictured version of "The Show-Off," diverting film fare.—By WHITNEY WILLIAMS (L. A. Times), October 20, 1929.

"Second only to Skelly's is the performance contributed by Clara Blandick, as the mother-in-law whose dislike for Aubrey is so intense that her ire is aroused by the mere mention of his name."

Last British Picture ("The Scarlet Daredevil")

The Sept. Photoplay says: "Here's another from the British shore, noticeably better than others imported this year. A roistering, blood thirsty melodrama of the merry times of Robespiere and Madame LaGuillotine. It contains a very distinguished characterization (Juliette Compton) who is ravishing as a political intriguante, ought to be besieged by offers from American producers on the strength of her work in this picture.

"Now, but twelve years old, Philippe de Lacy ranks as perhaps the best known boy of his age in the world. Hollywood calls him its leading juvenile actor. He never has been hailed as a sudden discovery, nor did he begin his career in a blaze of acclaim. Instead, he has consistently had good parts in first class pictures, depending not upon type, but upon pure acting ability and boyish beauty."—Florida Times-Union

Serious Business Mann

NOT always the funny minstrel. In fact Billy Mann is always serious. He offers a unique and genuine service to Hollywood and its suburbs—such as Los Angeles and Culver City.

He attends your gasoline and oil needs, supplying Shell 400 "the dry gas" and Shell Motor Oil that forms no hard carbon to hundreds of busy people. Gallon lots to drums full. Or Shell scrip books in any quantity at any time. Fuel oils too, or any petroleum product—from naphtha to asphalt.

BILLY MANN
